

OSCS Christopher Melleby

Sector Southeastern New England Command Senior Chief

Senior Chief Christopher Melleby is a native of Erial, New Jersey and entered the United States Army in 1997. After completing a tour in the United States Army as an Air Defense Artilleryman, Senior Chief Melleby then joined the United States Coast Guard in 2001. Senior Chief Melleby was a member of recruit training company J-159 at Training Center Cape May.

Following recruit training, Senior Chief Melleby reported to Training Center Petaluma for Telecommunications Specialist “A” School. Upon graduation from “A” School, Senior Chief Melleby reported to Communication Station Kodiak where he qualified as Communications Watch Supervisor. Senior Chief Melleby then reported to Coast Guard Headquarters in Washington, DC where he served as Assistant Document Control and Security Officer for the Office of Defense Operations. He then transferred west to the Coast Guard Cutter MUNRO (WHEC-724) home ported in Alameda, CA and served as the Communications Division Supervisor. After completing his tour onboard Cutter MUNRO, Senior Chief Melleby then joined the Leadership Development Center as a Leadership and Management School (LAMS) Instructor at the Training Center Petaluma Detachment. Senior Chief Melleby was then assigned to the Pacific Area / District 11 Command Center in Alameda, CA where he served as the Command Center Enlisted Advisor. Senior Chief Melleby has served as the Command Senior Chief of Sector Southeastern New England since July 2013.

Senior Chief Melleby is a 2006 graduate of the Coast Guard Chief Petty Officer Academy Class 136 and the Coast Guard Senior Enlisted Leadership Course in 2012. Senior Chief Melleby has earned an Associate’s Degree in Applied Computer Science from Thomas Edison State College and completed the National Defense University Senior Enlisted Joint Professional Military Education Course – Class 1302-B. Senior Chief Melleby is married to Chief Warrant Officer DeAnna Melleby of Mandeville, LA and has two children Paxton and Jocelyn.